LESLIE is a member of the Rockland County Bar Association and the Rockland County Women's Bar Association. She also served on the Board of Directors for the Rockland County Jewish Community Center. Leslie and her husband Paul, an attorney and lifelong resident of Clarkstown, have three boys, Michael, Steven and Zachary who attended the Clarkstown Central School District where Leslie volunteered with various committees.

Leslie Kahn currently serves as the Town Attorney for the Town of Clarkstown where she counsels the Town Boards and Commissions on legal issues. She also prepares local laws and resolutions, assists with the defense of lawsuits brought against the Town, and prosecutes violators of the Town Code. During her tenure with the Town, Leslie has significantly increased the number of prosecutions related to building and zoning code violations.

Leslie previously served as a prosecutor in the Brooklyn District Attorney's Office for 25 years where she concentrated in the areas of domestic violence, juvenile crimes, alternative to incarceration programs and gun violence. Leslie has extensive trial and courtroom experience having conducted hundreds of hearings and trials, both felonies and misdemeanors.

During her time at the Brooklyn DA's office, she supervised the first misdemeanor Domestic Violence Court in Brooklyn which heard over one thousand cases each year. She also contributed to the implementation of the first Juvenile Domestic Violence Court in the nation and was involved in the creation of the Integrated Domestic Violence Court in Brooklyn.
